Contract Administration

Sandberg is traditionally regarded for its testing, inspection and quality management and is also renowned for comprehensive failure investigations and forensic services; often involving buildings or structures subsequently subjected to remedials, repair or refurbishment.

As a long established firm of Consulting Engineers, Sandberg is able to draw from wide ranging experience in administering such contracts from materials and workmanship specifications through contract supervision to completion, involving the full scope of Contract Administration services.

Client and user confidence is enhanced by Contract Administration services being undertaken by those fully understanding the origins and nature of the problems.
