7. Your rights

Under the GDPR you have certain rights in relation to the personal data that we hold about you. You may exercise these rights at any time by contacting us using the contact details set out further below in this section.

Please note that in some cases we may not be able to comply with your request because of our own obligations to comply with other legal or regulatory requirements. However, we will always respond to any request you make and if we cannot comply with your request, we will tell you why.

Your rights are:

- The right to access your data

You are entitled to a copy of the personal data we hold about you and certain details of how we use it. Your information will usually be provided to you in writing, unless otherwise requested, or where you have made the request by electronic means, in which case the information will be provided to you by electronic means where possible. Subject to certain circumstances, there will not be a charge for dealing with these requests.

- The right to rectification

We take reasonable steps to ensure that the information we hold about you is accurate and complete. However, if you do not believe this is the case, you can ask us to update or amend it.

- The right to erasure

In certain circumstances, you have the right to ask us to erase your personal data.

- The right to restriction of processing

In certain circumstances, you are entitled to ask us to stop using your personal data.

- The right to data portability

In certain circumstances, you have the right to ask that we transfer any personal data that you have provided to us to another third party of your choice.

- The right to object to marketing

You can ask us to stop sending you marketing communications at any time.

- The right to withdraw consent

For certain uses of your personal data, we will ask for your consent. Where we do this, you have the right to withdraw your consent to further use of your personal data.

- The right to complain
- If you are not happy with the way your personal data is held or processed please tell us using the contact details above.

You also have a right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) if you believe that any use of your personal data by us is in breach of applicable data protection laws and regulations. Making a complaint will not affect any other legal rights or remedies that you have.

8. Marketing

We may also use your personal data to provide you with information about services we provide which may be of interest to you where you have provided your consent for us to do so. This information may include alerts and newsletters. We will communicate this to you in a number of ways including by post, telephone, email or other digital channels.

We are committed to only sending you marketing communications that you have clearly expressed an interest in receiving. If you wish to unsubscribe from marketing communications sent by us, you may do so at any time by contacting us in one of the following ways:

9. What is our approach to international data transfers?

In principal, we do not store or process personal data that we collect about you in countries outside the European Economic Area (EEA). However, some of the third parties we share personal data with (as set out in this Privacy Notice), may be located outside the EEA. In those circumstances, please note that your personal data will only be transferred outside the EEA on one of the following bases:

- the country that we send the personal data to is approved by the European Commission as providing an adequate level of protection for personal data;
- the transfer is to a recipient in the United States of America who has registered under the EU/US Privacy Shield;
- the recipient has entered into European Commission standard contractual clauses with us; or

Please contact us if you require further information about this.

10. How long do we keep your data?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the relevant purposes set out in this Privacy Notice and in order to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations. Please contact us if you would like further information regarding the periods for which your personal data will be stored.

11. What we do to safeguard your data

Sandberg Group is committed to protecting your privacy. Our staff use mobile devices, such as laptops and mobiles that are accessed by password. Our staff receive periodic training on data protection and all our contracts with third parties include relevant confidentiality and data protection provisions.
